Selectmen's Meeting

HARBOR BEACH COMPLAINT

Gordon Jones, president of the Harbor Beach Association, together with 5 members of this organization, expressed to Selectmen their concern about possible health and safety hazards posed by the burned out Harbor Beach Restaurant. Mr. Jones said parents at Harbor Beach are not able to keep their children from playing in the area and that children are climbing a fire escape which is not attached to the building wall at the top. He said that they are worried about rats, a fuel oil tank and a propane tank which children are pelting with rocks. Chairman William Hubbard assured Mr. Jones that Town Counsel Donald Fleming is working with Building Inspector Jonathan DePina to institute steps for correction of problems there. James Q. Clemmey, Jr., representing owner John Stavros, said that the main problem has been the long wait for the insurance company to act. He said that when the whole building was boarded up and posted Building Inspector Jonathan DePina was on the scene. He said that he was not aware of the unattached fire escape but that it had been barricaded at the base and posted. Mr. Clemmey said that there is no food on the premises and so nothing to attract rats other than normally present on the water. He promised to check the fire escape, empty the propane tank and check and empty the fuel tank if necessary. He said that Mr. Stavros had been anxious to proceed with the clean-up but without the insurance money had no choice but to wait. Chairman Hubbard said that a public hearing on the matter would be held at 7:30 on July 14 at the Selectmen's Office at the Town Hall.

ASKS FOR 195 SIGN

Mr. Martins, proprietor of Hillside Motel, approached Selectmen to try to have a sign posted on 195 announcing Food, Lodging & Fuel. Chairman Hubbard said that such a sign is very expensive and suggested that Mr. Martins might do something privately with other businessmen to promote the idea. Selectman James Huntoon suggested that Mr. Martins contact the Greater New Bedford Chamber of Commerce as an initial step.

WHARF LIGHTS

Selectmen received an estimate to replace the burned out wharf lights but took no action on the recommendation of Harbormaster Lloyd Haskell. He doesn't think the lights improve the wharf situation and because of the expense recommended a wait until money can be made available in the regular budget.

BROTHERHOOD OFFICERS ELECTED

Selectmen were notified of the election of a new panel of officers in the Police Brotherhood: President, Adam Mendoza; Vice President, Edward Pina; Secretary, Howard Mifflin; Treasurer, Ken Pacheco; Shop Steward, Kent Davis.

quested that wharf rest rooms be open for public functions at the wharf. Selectmen will order that this be done.

CANNON STREET REVERSED

Selectmen voted to change the traffic flow of Cannon Street to one way north. This follows the reversal of Pearl Street to one way north. This means the only access to the wharf is via Main Street which is one way south from Church Street joining Water Street which is one way east (all at latest check).

LIONS TO BUILD BALLFIELD

Selectmen received a letter from Paul Levine of the Mattapoisett Lions' Club asking permission to convert the old landfill area to a ballpark. The Selectmen readily agreed and pledged support to the project.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR

I have had time since my retirement as Superintendent of the Mattapoisett Water and Sewer Department on June 30th to reflect, not only on the progress made during the last several years and the current up-to-date plans and continued action toward meeting future needs, but to recall the cooperation and help received over the years from a dedicated and knowledgeable Board of WATER COMMISSIONERS and the skilled and hard-working Department employees. I remember with pleasure the many contacts with other town officials and employees which resulted in mutual assistance, more economical and efficient operations for all concerned. Mattapoisett is fortunate to have so many fine people working on their behalf. I recall the amiable relations enjoyed with the vast majority of those whom we served and with the contractors and workmen who worked with us as well.

I shall always maintain an intense interest in the Town's water system and supply and feel particularly confident that our future is secure in the hands of my successor, an intelligent, educated, well oriented man who possesses the youth and enthusiasm necessary to meet the ever increasing demands for higher water quality and safety. This much needed movement began with the STATE BOARD REQUIREMENT for certification of operators of Drinking Water Establishments, followed by the Federal Safe Drinking Water Act of 1974, implemented and expanded upon by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. These new requirements, constantly updated, set new standards for organic and inorganics as well as bacterial content in drinking water and require greatly increased monitoring and testing and constant effort to eliminate any possible source of contamination. To date, Mattapoisett has been able to meet all of the quality and safety requirements without chemical additives. It is difficult to believe that there may be residents for whom public water is available who will actually pay several hundred times the price of tap water for a gallon from an unknown source stored in a plastic container for an unknown period of time.

The Town of Mattapoisett is special to my wife and to me. We were both born here, returned after several years' absence while I was in the military service, and we would not consider leaving here permanently. We desire and intend to do some traveling in the near future, but at a later date, should the opportunity arise where we could contribute through some service to the town, we would be happy to do so. While on the subject of contribution through public service I would like to thank you for the many times you assisted my former Department by publishing articles and announcements in the Presto Press.

Yours respectfully, Charles A. Morgan to Church Street, Mattapoisett (here) and the problem of getting to the business and wharf area of Water Street (there). We now have two one-way side streets, both going away from Water Street and both side by side - Pearl and Cannon Streets. The closing of Cannon Street to all traffic going south to Water Street affects not only Cannon Street but the whole center. All vehicles are affected by this, even the emergency vehicles. They may proceed against the traffic but must use extreme caution. In case of a fire on Cannon Street or in the wharf area, the shortest route is either Barstow or Cannon Streets and now Cannon Street is a no, no. Also, the only access to the business and wharf area is via Main Street from Town Hall east.

It would seem that in fairness to the entire center, a hearing be held before such a drastic move is made. We, on Church Street, do not appreciate the increase in traffic caused by the re-direction of Cannon Street.

If the merchants have a slacking in business, they need only look to this new restricting traffic.

As I said before, you can't hardly get there from here!!

Open Letter to Robert G. Moore

Dear Bob,

We would like to express our deep gratitude for the years of dedication and enthusiasm you gave the Town while serving as an officer with the Mattapoisett Police Department. Your creative approach to problems and amiable way of dealing with the public, both young and old, will long be remembered. Thank you for applying your varied talents in service to our Town. Your recent resignation will be a great loss to Mattapoisett. However, we wish you much success in your future endeavors.

Library Aids awards went to David Simpkin, Regina Mello, Kristin LaCroix, Eric Dennie, Steven Grenier, Laura Gray, Ward Duff, Daniel Ferreira, Ronald Carreau, and Dale Bindas. Audio-Visual Club awards went to Paul Magee, Kevin Louden, and Richard Longo; 20-Book Readers Club certificates went to Elizabeth Dudley, Lori Ann Brown, Regina Mello, Tara Silvia, Melinda Petit, Charlene Pimental, James Wheeler, Mark Underhill, Michael James, Anthony Ashton, Joseph Ashton, and Mark Cook.

The "Ellis Award" is presented to the student who, in the opinion of the guidance personnel, demonstrates the most "extraordinary and laudatory learning improvement and effort". This year it was presented to Tom Wood of Mattapoisett. A watch was presented to Polly Field of Mattapoisett as this year's recipient of the O.A.C.A. (Outstanding Average Citizen Award). The intent of the award is to recognize one member of that great average membership of hard-working, consistently well-behaved, good citizens who go unheralded each year. He or she will symbolize those qualities so admired, but seldom acknowledged by appreciative teachers and administrators. The recipient will understand that the award is accepted on behalf of all of good, average, school citizens in the Junior High School. This year Lisa Borsari, a Marion Junior High School student, has been awarded the Charles Washburn Memorial Award for good citizenship. Finally, the coveted Mahoney Award is presented to the student with the highest overall academic average. This year's recipient was Susan Herman. Congratulations.

FIELD WALK - JULY 18th

This Saturday, July 18th, the field walk will be a SUMMER NIGHT HIKE. Summer offers a new orchestra of sounds, from the bass of the bullfrog to the eccentric melodies of the mocking bird. Many nocturnal animals may be found busy with their nightly feeding. Please join us in discovering the world of the Summer Night. The walk starts at the Museum at 7:30 p.m. Insect repellent and flashlights covered with red cellophane are advised.

Cranberry World

CRANBERRY WORLD HOSTS EXHIBIT OF BLACK ARTISTS FROM MASSACHUSETTS

Cranberry World Visitors Center will present "Massachusetts Black Artists", an exhibit featuring work by black artists in a wide spectrum of the visual arts. The exhibit is from July 3 to August 2 in the "Cranberry Gallery" of the admission-free museum on Water Street, Plymouth.

Anita Franks, manager and curator of the museum, describes the collection as a showcase of recent works by some black artists, "rather than a tribute to black art". "Massachusetts Black Artists" is the second in a series of exhibitions of work by black artists at Cranberry World, continuing the museum's efforts to recognize the multitude of talent currently flourishing in New England.

Cranberry World's permanent exhibition space houses a collection of displays and artifacts focusing on cranberry cultivation, harvesting, and consumption. In addition, the museum holds daily cranberry cooking demonstrations and free juice sampling. Cranberry World also sponsors a series of monthly free Sunday concerts on its Ply-

Heritage Plantation

A SUMMER SALUTE TO CAROUSELS

In recognition of the growing attention being paid to America's fast vanishing carousels and carved carousel animals, Heritage Plantation is presenting an exhibit of "The Paintings of Alice DeCaprio", the Chatham, N.J. artist well-known for her prints, drawings and paintings of carousel animals. This show is now in the Old Barn Gallery at the Museum through August 23.

An official U.S. Navy artist, recognized nationally for her seascapes and marine paintings, DeCaprio began her love affair with carousel animals when first sketching the Charlotte Dinger Collection in 1976. She is credited with "always capturing just the right amount of work and imagination that have gone into each carved figure," and has been commissioned by the Ringling Museums and by Circus World, Ringling's Theme Park near Orlando, to do "Portraits" from their

The exhibit of her work here enhances the Heritage Plantation carousel, built in 1912 by Charles I. Loof (who built the first Coney Island carousel in 1876) and the handsome carved animal figures surrounding it in the Arts & Crafts Building rotunda.

Alice DeCaprio notes that "the marvelously carved, bedecked and vibrant animals of the carousel world have long played a part in America's childhood memories. Only recently have they been recognized as a true American art form...intensely individual expressions of the master carvers of the profession." An indication of this growing recognition are recent newspaper stories about the Heritage Plantation merry-go-round and carved figure collection and recent national coverage of carousels.

ARTS AND CRAFTS FAIR

The annual Heritage Plantation of Sandwich Arts & Crafts Fair will sport a new look starting Wednesday, July 22, and running through Sunday, July 26, on the Special Events Field below the Museum's Windmill. Twenty demonstrators, of whom five will make one-day appearances, will work and show their arts and crafts under a colorful 40' x 80' tent.

ANTIQUE CAR SHOW AT HERITAGE

The 9th Annual Antique Car Show and Competition will be held Sunday, July 19, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Heritage Plantation of Sandwich. This annual event attracts about 100 antique and classic cars and has become one of the primary attractions of the season. Heritage members and visitors that day will be invited to participate by casting ballots to pick winners and runners-up in five classes. Class A Competition will include antique cars up through the year 1916; Class B will have 1917 through 1927 cars; Class C, 1928 through 1942: Class D will show cars from 1943 through 1954; and Class E will comprise Special Interest Autos only from 1955 through 1972. It is requested that all autos be pre-registered for showing.

Spectators may inspect these antique cars and join in the fun by casting their votes that day on the special events grounds below the Old Windmill. An added attraction will be an afternoon band concert conducted by John R.
